LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Cartographic Perspectives, first published in 1989, will soon celebrate its tenth anniversary. It has been a remarkable decade for cartography and for the journal. The technology of map-making has advanced but, more significantly, new ideas have emerged about the meaning of mapping. This publication has provided a 'perspective,' publishing a number of seminal articles that have been widely cited. The circulation has expanded with subscribers in many foreign countries. In short, CP has become a world-class journal.

I am pleased to have assumed the editorship of the journal with issue number 29 (winter 1998). The previous editors - David DiBiase and Dr. Sona Andrews - need to be thanked for all of their work in getting the journal started and established. It has been a
